Orphans of Flood Keep Vigil in Watery Pasture

WADING FOR SAFETY of the dike, these tired, hungry orphans are part of livestock trapped on Barton Island, B.C., when the dike broke. Indians on the island herded them to southern edge of the once-fertile island for evacuation. Most of the livestock marooned on Barton had been saved.

Flood-Fighters Prepare For Likely Crisis Tonight

By Norman Michie

VANCOUVER, June 9.—(CP)—Fraser Valley residents are still holding their breath today after two minor breaks threatened to touch off the long-awaited firework along British Columbia's flood-defence line.

Plagued by a night of crisis and near-crisis, uneasy flood-fighters are preparing to face their severest test tonight, with the spring tide reaching its climax of 14.4 feet.

Flagging ranks will be augmented by 500 fresh troops drawn from Manitoba and Saskatchewan permanent force units, scheduled to arrive by air from Calgary late today.

FLAME-THROWERS USED
Long-suffering Pitt Meadows succumbed briefly to 18 days of watery assault, with the dike at the junction of the Pitt and Fraser rivers cracking under the strain. The breach is termed "not serious" by flood control authorities. Flame throwers are being called into the fight to clear away brush from dikes.

A second break was reported at the primary dike on Westham Island, near the mouth of the Fraser. Secondary dikes are holding.
On the Columbia river at Trail, 220 miles east of Vancouver, 50 feet of track were washed out by rising waters. Officials expect repairs will take at least three days, during which time hydroelectric engineers have predicted a further rise of three feet.

Flood controllers J. P. Coates has called for "desperate measures" to hold the dikes. Several small breaks occurred during the night, and 40,000 sandbags are being rushed to the area by plane. Two complete 25-bed hospital units will be flown in today.

RIVER ABOVE PONDS
The Columbia at this point is two feet higher than the ponds behind the dikes, and a major breakthrough will flood a tremendous acreage.

Along the Fraser major dikes are still holding, but the gauge Mission today reads 21.46, just short of the highest flood crest. On the advice of United States flood control experts, who made a five-hour inspection of the Chilliwack-Rosedale area, 65 miles east of Vancouver, quarried rock will be used instead of sandbags to strengthen the Rosedale dikes.

Weather officials predict little relief from the five-day heat wave which has greatly increased runoff from melting snowpacks. A northerly flow of air is expected to result in slightly lower temperatures, but hot weather will continue in most parts of the province.

Ainlay Opens Fund For B.C. Flood Victims

Edmontonians will be given the opportunity of giving immediate assistance to victims of the flood waters of the mighty Fraser river.
Mayor Harry Ainlay announced today he was opening a fund here as an outlet for the great sympathy felt by city residents for those who have lost so heavily in the Fraser river valley.

The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a relief fund and will be the clearing house for all donations made by Edmonton. The money turned into the Vancouver fund is allocated to the Canadian Red Cross in that province for immediate relief of flood victims.

Mayor Ainlay stressed that the Edmonton fund would be set up to receive donations for immediate relief purposes only.

GLADIATORS OF ANCIENT ROME PUT TO SHAME

ROME, June 9.—(BUP)—Two deputies tangled in a fist fight on the floor of the chamber tonight, and the session was suspended when women members complained they heard obscene language shouted by the brawlers.

A Christian Democrat deputy was smacked twice in the face by a Communist in a struggle across the floor and up into the Christian Democrat benches.

Two others who tried to pull them apart got bruised.
It was the second straight day of fist fights in the chamber.

1923 MURDER

25 Years After She Faces Death

YORKTON, Sask., June 9.—(CP)—A wrinkled 75-year-old farm woman who has spent the last 25 years in a mental hospital is on trial for the murder of her husband in 1923.

Mrs. Hattie Ordinal of Pelly, Sask., yesterday pleaded not guilty to the charge. Her husband died May 24, 1923, one day after he had been wounded by a shotgun blast, alleged to have been fired by his son, Peter.

Another woman, recently discharged from a mental home, is due to come before the King's Bench Court here this sitting. Mrs. Nellie Thomas was committed to an institution following the murder of her husband, Charles E. Thomas, in 1923. She was recently discharged and now faces trial.

Crash Kills 15

TUNTULA GUTIERREZ, Mexico, June 9.—(AP)—Fifteen people were reported killed when an airliner crashed Tuesday while making a forced landing at La Perla ranch near Pachuca. Three of the dead were brought here today.

At the prison farm that Barker knew something about the murder. She asked Kelley to question Barker from the stand.

Barker at first denied any knowledge of the murder. Then he broke down and confessed.
"She (Mrs. Thelma Leslie) knew too much about my life," Barker said.

"I just slipped behind her while she was standing at the bar with Sautler. I cut her throat with my pocket knife."
"I didn't even know Sautler was involved in it. I don't want to see an innocent man die. He didn't have anything to do with it."

WHO HIT ME? HE SURE WANTS ANSWER

ROSCOE, Calif., June 9.—(AP)—Night after night Jack Foster, 38, sits astride his parked motorcycle at an intersection here holding a sign which reads:

Foster was involved in a collision with a truck at the same intersection last May 10. He was in hospital for many days and still has an injured right leg.
He says that in order to become eligible for compensation because of the accident he must identify the truck in the accident and find a witness.

Sunday Delivery Of Milk May End

Sunday milk deliveries to Edmonton consumers may be out in about five months.
This prediction is the result of a comprehensive Bulletin survey taken today.

Survey was taken after a meeting of city milk drivers held Tuesday night in the Labor Temple.
About 40 drivers attended the meeting.
They were in almost unanimous support of abandoning Sunday milk deliveries, sometime next fall.

Meeting was called by Local Union No. 514 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs. It was open to all milk drivers in the city, whether members of the union or not.

NO OTHER DEMANDS
Drivers ask no wage increases or shorter working hours. Their desire is for a free Sunday, in which to go to church, and spend the day of rest with their families.

City dairy firms vary in their opinion on the Sunday deliveries.
Edmonton City Dairy has indicated it is in favor of the plan to abolish Sunday milk deliveries.

S. H. Thomas, assistant manager, told The Bulletin "Nothing is definite yet—all the dairies have yet to meet to discuss the question. Unions must approve the plan, and the board of public utility commissioners must approve it."

He stated that ECD drivers favor the plan they get Sundays free, and so does ECD management.

NO EAST DELIVERIES
Mr. Thomas stated that most eastern Canadian cities don't have Sunday milk deliveries and consumers in those cities are not inconvenienced.

The change-over here would "not start until fall," so that consumers without refrigeration might become used to the plan in cooler weather before next summer's heat.

Management of Jasper Dairy and its drivers favor the delivery change-over, stated S. H. Huff, of Jasper Dairy. "Their support is based on reasons similar to ECD."
Mr. Huff stated that "our customers, both those with and those without refrigeration, have given favorable reaction for the most part."

LIKE PRESENT PLAN
A third Edmonton dairy did not wish to be quoted because "we haven't decided yet." Official of the dairy stated that the company's drivers were not in favor of

Liberalism Would Ban Textbook

Gottwald Is Assured Of Czech Presidency
PRAGUE, June 9.—(AP)—The executive committee of the Communist party proposed Communist Premier Klement Gottwald today as the only candidate for president of Czechoslovakia, to succeed Eduard Benes. It proposed Communist Antonin Zapotocsky for the premiership.

The proposals were made to the Communist-ruled National Front coalition.

Announcement, carried by the Prague radio, insured Gottwald's election by acclamation in parliament Monday. He has been acting with all executive powers since Benes resigned two days ago.

Zapotocky, trade union head and deputy premier, is a staunch Communist who rose to the top during the February coup d'etat in which the Communists seized power. The new constitution, which Benes refused to sign, became the law of Czechoslovakia today.

Liberals Lose In Ontario and B.C.

CCF victories in by-elections in Vancouver Centre and in Ontario riding have cost the Liberals two House of Commons seats.

Socialist triumphs yesterday in the traditionally Liberal strongholds came just a day after the CCF rose to official opposition in the Ontario legislature. Last week the CCF won the federal by-election in the British Columbia riding of Yale, long held by the Conservatives.

Winning candidates yesterday were Rodney Young, 38-year-old law student, in Vancouver Centre and Welsh-born labor organizer Arthur Williams, 32, in Ontario riding. Williams sat in the Ontario legislature 1943-45, the by-election was Young's first political venture.

Both led their nearest opponents by roughly 2,000 votes.

HOUSE STANDING
The Commons standing now is: Liberals 124; Progressive Conservatives 66; CCF 31; Social Credit 13; Independent 4; Block Popular 3; Independent Liberal 1; Independent Progressive Conservative 1; Independent CCF 1; Union Des Electeurs 1; vacant 1.

The Vancouver seat was vacated last December with the appointment of Williams to the Senate of former Veterans Minister Ian Mackenzie, who had represented the riding since 1930. The Ontario riding seat became vacant with the death of W. E. N. Sinclair.

Both ridings had three-way contests, with the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives opposing the CCF.

Complete returns from Ontario ridings 150 polls gave Williams 10,501 votes, compared with 8,334 for Lyman Gifford, Liberal, and 7,555 for Mayor Frank McCallum of Oshawa, Progressive Conservative.

The riding includes the automotive, mobile-manufacturing city of Oshawa, east of Toronto, and surrounding communities.

VANCOUVER VOTING
Complete returns from the 153 polls in Vancouver Centre gave young 8,855 votes, Ralph Gempsey, Liberal, 7,570, and Lyle Jestley, Progressive Conservative, 5,342.

Williams worked in coal mines in his native Tredgar, Wales, before coming to Canada in 1929. One of his first jobs was as a coal miner in the Heenan, now health minister in Great Britain's Labor government.

Williams worked in shipyard, has been a CCF member 15 years. He joined the army in 1940 and fought in Italy and western Europe.

Box Cars Smash Into Autos, 13 Hurt
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 9.—(AP)—A head-on collision between two box cars and a passenger train today when a westbound Canadian National Railway passenger train smashed into three box cars on a siding at the Niagara Falls station, hurling the cars against several parked autos.

The accident is believed to have been an open switch.

Most serious injuries were suffered by those trapped in their cars when the box cars were sent careening into them. Several suffered fractures and severe bruises, and were taken to hospital in Niagara Falls.

FIRST POLIO CASE HERE SINCE 1946

Edmonton's first case of poliomyelitis since 1946 was reported to the city health department today.

It is that of a 16-month-old child living in the 118 avenue and 72 street district.

The child is in the isolation hospital, and all children under 15 years living in the dwelling in which the case was discovered have been quarantined for two weeks.

Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, urged parents whose children become feverish and ill without apparent reason during the next three months to immediately have them examined by a doctor.

Ilsey May Tell Of Spy Activities

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Canada may get a look into Russian undercover activities in this country, though no more than a peek past a lifted corner of the RCMP's curtain.

Under pressure in the commonsense, Justice Minister Ilsey agreed last night to give "very careful consideration" to disclosing RCMP information on any spy rings and Russian-dominated organizations operating in Canada.

But he warned that any disclosure would be skimpy. Telling the house he had no information, he said he did not think he should make public "much" of any material he got.

John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) prodded the minister—who is in charge of the RCMP—into thinking the matter over during discussion of Mr. Ilsey's estimates for the force.

Sunday Milk May Be Halted

The plan—at present these drivers get two days off per week, and like the present arrangement—of a four-day dairy company stated: "We are in favor of any move to improve working conditions of the men."

"The situation of no Sunday deliveries has worked for years in Eastern Canada with no inconvenience to consumers."

"We will support any action taken to abandon Sunday milk deliveries."

NO APPLICATION YET

A. T. Neale, milk supervisor of the provincial utility commission board, told The Bulletin that no application for a Sunday delivery change-over has yet been made.

However, application is expected next fall.

Mr. Neale stated that it would probably be next November before any such plan would be inaugurated.

After the application is received, public hearings would have to be held, order of the board (if approved) to the plan is given) would be published in Alberta gazette.

If the plan is approved, all city dairies would abolish Sunday milk deliveries.

NONE IN LETHBRIDGE

Mr. Neale stated that Lethbridge is the only Alberta city which has no Sunday milk deliveries.

"The change was made about three years ago," he said, "but far only about one complaint has ever been received."

Council's Inaction Rapped By Planner

Mr. Holway, "has become a complete disgrace to any civilized community."

Attempts at some measure of planning in West Jasper Place, he said, "has been a complete failure due to 'patient and prolonged effort' by Mac Dewar, city architect."

Edmonton's planning, Mr. Holway alleged, has been left in the hands of an "overworked city architect" and an "amateur" planning commission.

Attempts to engage a planning engineer, recommended by architect Dewar, charged Mr. Holway, were scuttled because "the city council couldn't see anything except the salary involved."

He differentiated between a big city and a "bigger and better" city. If Edmonton wishes to become a "city and a better city," he said, it must act like one.

OTHERS HAVE LEARNED

A promising beginning in the early thirties, he charged, was marred by a return to "piecemeal and uncoordinated methods" during the depression years.

Larger and smaller cities, he said, have learned that bits-and-pieces planning is not good enough.

An example, he said, is the cities in Ontario and British Columbia.

"Provincial and municipal authorities," he explained, "have come to the unanimous conclusion that comprehensive, integrated planning is an economic necessity."

He pointed out that in those provinces are modelled after legislation which has been in effect in Alberta since 1929.

"Well, let's collect, and let's defend ourselves," he suggested. He suggested an union of American and European countries.

German Pact 'Still Possible'

Bevin Hopes Russia Can Be Brought Into Agreement

LONDON, June 9.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin told the Commons today Britain still hopes to bring Russia into the four-power agreement.

Bevin said Britain has approved recommendations for a federal government in western Germany, western power occupation for the Ruhr, and a period of international control of the industrial Ruhr valley.

The recommendations were put forward by a conference among the United States, Britain, France and the Benelux countries: Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. The recommendations were made public Monday.

A Moscow radio commentator charged today that the recommendations would be a "convenient way to convert western Germany into a permanent Anglo-American military base."

Communists urged the Germans to resist the plan, saying "they're taking us for the ride."

Earlier, official British sources said they expected a three-power agreement to be signed for the United States, Britain and France to resume allocating war reparations to Russia from western Germany.

MONTEAL, June 9.—(CP)—International collaboration must be pursued "wherever and whenever it can be made to work in the hope that slowly it will build firmer foundations," Edward Phelan, director-general of the international labor office, said today in his annual report.

The report, made public at ILO headquarters here, will be submitted to the ILO's 31st general conference opening June 17 at San Francisco.

Mr. Phelan said the organization's objective is to better conditions of labor and higher standards of living—know "no boundaries of political, economic or ideological division."

U.S. Accepts London Plan

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—State Secretary Marshall announced today American acceptance of the London conference proposals for western Germany.

Marshall called the London plan a "major step" toward the solution of the problems of Germany.

It provides for a federal government to give western Germany a "major step" toward the solution of the problems of Germany.

PARIS, June 9.—(CP)—The Foreign Affairs Committee of the French parliament approved with reservations today a six-country accord on western Germany.

The approval was by a narrow margin after Foreign Minister Georges Bidault asked the committee to back the agreement setting up a separate state in western Germany.

A spokesman said yesterday the cabinet had approved the agreement.

Mr. Swinerton was elected first vice-president, Mr. McDonald second vice-president, and Charles B. Guterson, Drumheller, third vice-president.

TORY CHARGES VICTOR "RED"

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—A. L. Smith (PC, Calgary West), said in the Commons last night Rodney Young, CCF winner of Tuesday's federal by-election in Vancouver Centre, is a Communist.

"He is a radical to the extent of being a Communist," Mr. Smith.

"That is completely false," retorted John Probe (CCF, Regina).

CCF Jubilant Over Results

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said last night the federal by-election results in Ontario riding and Vancouver Centre coupled with last week's returns in Yale—all three returned CCF candidates—were a "fair sampling of the trend across Canada."

He said the CCF party was "very pleased and very delighted" with the election of CCF members in Ontario riding and Vancouver Centre.

One-Vancouver Centre—expressed the opinion of an urban riding while the other—Ontario—represented a mixed riding, partly urban and partly agricultural. Yale, where a CCF candidate was elected last Monday, was entirely agricultural.

Canada Shipping Hundreds Of "Locos"

TORONTO, June 9.—(CP)—Canada is shipping hundreds of steam locomotives to Asia, Africa, Europe and at the same time is getting started on a large diesel electric locomotive industry.

Latest order is 100 steam jobs for India, worth about $12,500,000, which follows a previous Indian order for 150 on which work is just under way.

These orders are being filled by Montreal Locomotive Works Ltd., and the Canadian Locomotive Co., Ltd., of Kingston.

High Cost of Living Won for CCF—King

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in a prepared statement that the CCF victories in three recent by-elections reflect "the inevitable dislike felt by persons of all classes for high living costs and privations and restrictions of any kind."

Text of Mr. King's statement follows:

The lead which the CCF has gained in the recent by-elections reflects the inevitable dislike felt by persons of all classes for high living costs and privations and restrictions of any kind.

In Canada, as in other countries, all of these have been an inevitable consequence of war, and, in the main, are due to inflation (itself among the worst of post-war evils).

While conditions of the kind are immediately felt, they are not as readily understood. It so happens that this untoward tide of unfortunate sequences is today at the flood.

In the political campaigns and in personal canvassing, the worst aspects of the situation have been overemphasized. The irritation has been heightened by the constant criticism in the house of Commons by opposition political parties, none of which have anything in common except their desire to see the government weakened.

The CCF party has profited most by this ill-natured combination. The Progressive Conservative party, by joining in the combination, has well-nigh destroyed itself. It is fortunate for all but the CCF that opportunity should have been afforded, thus early, of seeing these under-currents at work.

While inflation may be bad, and takes time to control, it should never be forgotten that there is one thing worse than inflation and that is depression.

The federal government, at the risk of its own immediate popularity, has so shaped its policies as to restrict further inflation in the present, and to lessen the possibilities of depression later on. This, too, is a course of action not too readily understood.

Lords Defeat Bill

LONDON, June 9.—(Reuters)—The House of Lords tonight defeated, by 177 to 81, a government bill designed to reduce from two years to one their power to delay legislation.

It is, however, the long run rather than the short run which counts for most. It would be a mistake to attach too much significance to CCF gains in the present.

To all Consumers of Coca-Cola

June 5th, 1948.

TO ALL CONSUMERS OF COCA-COLA

For almost three generations...since 1886...Coca-Cola has been a 5¢ product. Today you pay 7¢, the extra 2¢ being due solely to the two special wartime taxes imposed on soft drinks.

Newspaper commentaries, following the recent Federal Budget, outlined two main reasons given for the Government's decision not to remove certain excise taxes. One of these was summed up as follows:

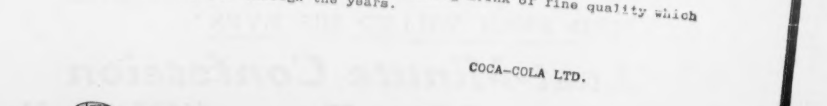

"There is no guarantee that if they (the taxes) were dropped the saving would be passed on to the consumer."

We are pleased to say that this does not apply to the special wartime taxes on Coca-Cola, because we continue to hold our traditional belief in a 5¢ price for our product. We have been and are now prepared to pass on to the consumer the full amount of these taxes, when removed, taxes when they are removed.

With prices so much a matter of daily interest, you may be interested to know that our price remains exactly what it was before the war, with only the two wartime taxes added.

TRUSTING SOUL LOSES RING; WRONG GIRL

An Edmonton citizen who gave a wedding ring to the wrong girl will have some explaining to do to his future bride.

Seems that this citizen was at the Union Bus depot Sunday afternoon when a young woman came up to him and said that her baggage had gone astray.

The citizen suggested the adjourn to his hotel room to search for the baggage.

While in the room the young woman tried on a wedding ring this citizen had purchased for his girl friend.

The young woman left.

Redcoat Band Pleases 5,000 Edmontonians

It was a symphony in scarlet and gold in East Edmonton Tuesday night.

The red rays of a setting Western sun deepened the scarlet of RCMP tunics, and turned gleaming brass band instruments to rich gold.

And it was golden music that a cool northern breeze drifted over Edmonton.

The music came from the first performance of the official Royal Canadian Mounted Police band on its western tour.

Almost 5,000 Edmontonians heard the open-air concert from the grandstand at the Exhibition Grounds.

Under the direction of Inspector J. T. Brown, R.C.M.P. director of music for the RCMP, the 41-piece band gave a concert of varied music from rousing Sousa marches to The Lord's Prayer.

It was a high standard performance marked only by the inevitable blowing of train whistles from the railways running near the Exhibition Grounds.

All the Mounted musicians had musical training previous to joining the RCMP, Inspector Brown told The Bulletin.

Six of the bandmen were once members of the famous Kitilano Boys Band, in Vancouver and whose half a dozen were formerly with the Ottawa Boys Band.

Inspector Brown was the director of the Ottawa band before he joined the RCMP.

Polish Communists Denounced in City

Formal disavowal of the Communist government of Poland has been made by Edmonton Polish Canadians.

Announcement was made following a meeting on the occasion of the celebration of the anniversary of the Polish Constitution of 1791.

The statement was endorsed by the Polish Veterans' Society and the Polish Association in Canada.

"We do not recognize the latest partition of Poland and her occupation by the Bolshevik forces, brought about by the agents of the present Warsaw regime, who were created through the intrigues of the Kremlin and forcibly placed as rulers of unhappy Poland," the statement reads.

The organizations expressed their loyalty to Canada, but strongly accented "the unfairness and injustice meted out" to the country of their forefathers.

"We express a firm and decided attitude against . . . Communism, open or camouflaged, which strives to undermine our country, Canada, her government and people," they said.

The Polish Democratic Society, they declared, "has within its ranks only Communists and sympathizers of the present

Trans-Canada Highway Vital to Tourist Trade

Speeding Motorists Draw Heavy Fines

Speeders on city highways are being closely checked by the police traffic squad.

Eight motorists charged with speeding appeared before Magistrate A. O. Millar in police court today.

They were fined a total of $135 and costs or a total of 195 days in custody.

Two former Edmontonians belong to the policeman-musician aggregation—Sgt. E. J. Lydell and Constable V. V. Stauffer.

Sgt. Lydell, cornetist and assistant band leader, once played with the Salvation Army Band here, and later directed a band in Vancouver.

Constable Stauffer played with a city string ensemble in 1927 and 1928.

Both were educated in Edmonton schools.

Today the band will play a concert in front of the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion for the benefit of hospitalized veterans.

Alberta towns which the concert band will visit during the next two weeks are: Red Deer, Calgary, High River, Macleod, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat.

Following the provincial tour, the band will stop off at other cities and towns between here and Winnipeg over a two-week period.

Then the bandmen will fly to Ottawa, where they will resume their full-time duties on the administrative and clerical staff of the RCMP in the capital city.

marionette regime in Warsaw."

The newspaper, "Kronika Tygodniowa" (Weekly Chronicle), they alleged, does not express the opinions of Poles and Canadians of Polish origin in Canada.

It, the statement continues, "only expresses the views of Communists and their present attitudes concerning Poland in a light pleasing to themselves."

ARNHEM, The Netherlands, June 9.—(AP)—Five workers were killed here yesterday when a 3,000-pound bomb exploded in a concrete building that was one of the West European headquarters of the German air force during the war.

FLAG CONDITION RAISES IRE OF LOCALITES

Can we do something about it?

That was the question asked by "Mrs. Edmonton" and others, who phoned The Bulletin this morning about the condition of the flag at the Edmonton Exhibition Grounds.

"Mrs. Edmonton" was mad. She told The Bulletin that she had attended the RCMP band concert Tuesday night—and while she enjoyed the music very much, the condition of the flag on the flagstaff behind and to the right of the bandstand was "terrible."

"I was with visitors to the city," she said. "They laughed at the condition of the flag, asked me why we couldn't do something about it. I was very embarrassed."

"You couldn't tell whether it was the Union Jack or the Canadian ensign."

"Why," she told The Bulletin, "my dishrag has more respect than that flag. Can the city afford a new one?"

Which The Bulletin finds, is the question other Edmontonians are asking.

Leading U.S. Oilman Enthused Over Leduc

U.S. Award Made To City Jeweler

Title of Registered Jeweler of the American Gem Society has been awarded L. S. Nelson, director of Henry Birks and Sons, (Western) Limited and manager of the Edmonton branch.

Word to the effect that Nelson had passed the diamond grading and other examinations set by the society was received Monday.

Only such jewelers as have an adequate knowledge of gemology, plus the required practical experience are registered by the society.

An international professional organization, the American Gem Society has as its purpose, the development of a scientific knowledge of gems by the general public and jeweler alike.

Born and educated at Spokane, Wash., Nelson started his business career with the Edmonton branch of Henry Birks and Sons. He was appointed manager of the store in 1945 and made a director of the Western Company in April 1947.

Active in civic and social affairs, he is a member of the Gyro club and vice-president of the Northern Alberta Jewelers Association.

He is married and with his wife Dorothy and son David lives at 10321 121 street.

Granite is a finely-formed rock, which has been exposed to great heat and pressure deep in the earth.

Leduc's oil field is now recognized in the continental petroleum industry as "a major discovery."

Here for his first-hand look at developments in Central Alberta, Leduc Noble, who heads the directors of the Noble Drilling Corp. of America, said today the importance of oil discoveries here are widely recognized.

Mr. Noble arrived here Tuesday in a company plane piloted by Ben Scott. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ann Noble and his niece, Miss Carolyn Tolburt.

One of the largest oil drilling companies in the United States, the Noble Drilling Corp. has its head offices in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The drill company official said he planned to investigate the requirements of the new field from the driller's viewpoint. He could not say at this time whether or not the Noble firm would move drill rigs into this area.

Canada is not new country to the firm. The company drilled wells in Turner Valley and several oil camps elsewhere in the province prior to the war.

Many of the wells drilled in the Fort Norman area to feed the Canol pipeline during the war were drilled by Noble.

"Most interesting undertaking" of the Noble company was drilling of 100 wells near Newark, England, during the Second World War.

The American drill crews were quartered in an ancient priory. A good quality of oil was located but production is small compared to American standards.

Mr. Noble termed the attitude and policies of the Alberta Government toward exploration and development as "more favorable than encouraging in recent years."

Civic Issues Are Acute

The fact that the Citizens' Committee has announced its organizational meeting considerably earlier in the year than usual indicates the prevailing opinion in Edmonton that civic issues are more acute and vital than ever before.

In other words, this unusually early start shows that the Citizens' Committee is sharply aware that candidates for civic office are going to have to present something more convincing than glowing promises to get themselves into the city council.

It requires no great perspicacity to be very sure that the people of Edmonton are sick to death of alibis and excuses for civic projects delayed, postponed and forgotten.

It requires no abnormal powers of observation to see very plainly that the people of Edmonton are going to enquire of their candidates just why this city does not have those facilities of roads and sewers that other cities of comparable size and age enjoy.

To put it bluntly, Edmonton voters are going to require a great deal more of their candidates this time than they ever did before.

And, pre-eminently, they are going to require that those who represent them on the city council are capable of thinking in terms of this city's growth.

They are going to demand candidates whose thinking is as big as Edmonton can be.

It makes very little difference which group produces those candidates.

Edmonton people will vote this time for enterprise and initiative and ability.

The group that puts forward that kind of candidates will win.

Left Wing Moves Forward

It would be dishonest to conceal the fact and dangerous to ignore it that left-wing thinking in Canada has gained a notable victory in Ontario and in the federal elections in Vancouver Centre and Oshawa that could exercise a substantial effect upon the trend of the next federal election.

The significance of the results in Ontario is not in the return of Progressive-Conservatives to power, because that was pretty much of a foregone conclusion, but in the fact that the CCF has bitten enough seats out of the Progressive-Conservative majority to become the official opposition in the next Ontario legislature.

The Liberal influence in the province has been comparatively static. The insurance of the CCF has not been accomplished at the expense of that party, since the Liberals now hold 12 seats as against 11 in the former house.

But there seems to have been a very decided transference of votes from the Progressive-Conservatives to the CCF to the degree that the former party is reduced from 66 seats to 53 while the latter has won 22 seats in place of its former eight.

Taken in conjunction with the CCF triumph in Yale, a week ago, this switching of allegiance in Ontario may encourage the Socialists to enlarge their hopes of forming a government in Ottawa or of participating in a coalition if the results are close.

This apparent trend, of course, will lose its significance if the result of the Saskatchewan election shows a diminution of CCF strength. If, on the other hand, that strength is increased, there will be no doubt about the reality of a leftist swing.

The Saskatchewan election is still the most interesting political fact in the public eye.

Something Short of Justice

There is something short of justice in the new amendment to the criminal code which provides that publishers or editors accused of defamatory libel shall in any other phase of defamatory libel be indicted and tried only in the province in which their publication is printed.

The purpose behind this amendment, which only enlarges the scope of section 888, is admirable. Hitherto section 888 only applied to defamatory libel itself and did not include conspiracy to libel or counselling to libel. The purpose of the amendment, therefore, was merely to make all phases of libel conform to the same rule of procedure.

The desire for conformity is commendable. The effect of the entire section is unfair.

Section 888 now reads: "Nothing in this act authorizes any court in one province of Canada to try any person for any offence committed entirely in another province; provided that every proprietor, publisher, editor or other person charged with the publication in a newspaper of any defamatory libel or with conspiracy to publish in any newspaper any defamatory libel shall be dealt with, indicted, tried and punished in the province in which he resides or in which such newspaper is printed."

It is the obvious intent of the department of justice to protect the editors and proprietors of publications from frivolous libel suits that may drag them across the country into a remote province at great expense.

But who or what is going to protect libelled individuals in British Columbia, for instance, from the heavy expense of carrying a libel suit into the Quebec courts provided the libel is committed by a Quebec publication?

The protection, while it has its points of merit, appears to be entirely too one-sided.

If a Montreal or Toronto newspaper or magazine circulates in the western provinces and prints something which may be construed as a libel against someone resident in the western provinces, then that newspaper or magazine should be prepared to defend itself from a charge in the place where the libel was actually committed, namely in the western province where the circulation of the libel did the defendant actual harm.

The commission of a libel occurs, not when and where the libellous article runs off the press, but when and where it is read by persons in whose eyes the attacked person is injured.

United States Far From Playing Warmonger Role

We made the last jump of our century U.S.A. tour across rivers at flood level. We did not know, when we crossed the mighty Columbia at Portland, that soon one whole suburb of that city would be wiped out; that hundreds of human beings would be drowned like rats in a trap. But all that was covered by large under water.

We drove exactly 8,182 miles in our own car on this trip, with one flat tire, and to other car trouble of any kind. But as we were also taken on many trips in the cars of friends and relatives, we covered well over 10,000 miles of U.S. roadways.

Sitting here in Canada, reading the papers and listening to the radio, some of our many impressions that the U.S.A. is becoming imperialistic, even by plan, warmonger.

Don't you believe it.

Isolation At Heart

The great mass of the people of the United States are as much opposed to the idea of being plunged into another war as are the people of Canada or Britain. In my opinion, the substantial majority of the American people are still isolationists at heart. They know that the facts of life of 1948 are such that they couldn't go back to old ways, but they wish with all their hearts they could.

The U.S.A. is obviously the richest, mightiest nation that has yet been on the face of the earth. The wealth that one sees manifest in so many ways is astounding.

But, aside by aid with the wealth, is a haunting insecurity. Fear eats at the heart and deadens the brains of this gigantic nation.

Living in their own hands the making of an abundance and prosperity undreamt of before in history, they nevertheless are the most curiously fearful nation in the world today. I say "curiously" fearful nation, because it is not Russia, or war with Russia that frightens the real business leaders half so much as it is peace and world stability.

Over and over again key people told me that if it were not for the rearmament program the slump would be an already.

Canada

I don't see any place in the great U.S.A. where I would as soon live as right where I do live, in Canada.

In fact, I came back from the trip more than ever glad that I was born in Canada, and I grew up. Most every Canadian has seeds of friends and relatives who went to the U.S.A. Most of these make far more money than we do. But I do not believe that the U.S.A. can compare with Canada as a place in which to bring up a family.

Also, in our British political tradition we are far better equipped to meet the problems of the next decades than is our mighty, but nervous neighbor.

There is a "family feeling," or whatever you want to call it, here in Canada that simply does not exist in the United States. You can take people even poles apart politically up here, and get them in a room, and you will find there is a solid basis of common ground in all their thinking.

An American diplomat who has considerable new and first-hand knowledge of Europe and the Russians believes that the obstacle is what he calls "the will to resist."

It is a result, he says, of many different factors, all flowing, like small streams, into the main river. The collapse of Czechoslovakia, and the dramatization of it in the death of the well-loved Masaryk, was one. The successful rebuff of Finland to Rus-

Takes Star View Of Everything

Editor, Bulletin.—Looking back to seventy years ago (I am 81 now), how well I remember those beautiful, peaceful Sundays, the love of our churches, and our clergy, and our sincere respect for God's holy day. In the city, town, village and hamlet, all was peaceful. No games were played, no unseemly behavior was seen, and no immodest or immoral scenes, or anything of the kind, were carried on. Home was home, and that holy day. This is the picture of that never to be forgotten age.

Now, look upon the picture of our modern today. I am not exaggerating when I say that the picture of God's Sabbath of our present modern times, presents every crime under God's sun, that can be committed, and is committed. What has the Church accomplished in preventing this crime? Nothing! What has religion of every creed accomplished in preventing and reducing crime? Nothing. What has all our Christian teaching accomplished in preventing crime? Nothing. Look at the teen age and youth of today. Smoking, drinking, out to all hours of the night, and frequenting of nightclubs, the ruination of youth and morality. Look the cinema and the crimes shown upon the screen. Boys on the street dressed up as desperadoes, flourishing imitation guns. Look at our juvenile delinquents. Almost two-thirds of the crimes are committed by youths under twenty years of age.

What has caused this dreadful crime wave in the year 1948? Science and scientific teaching and inventions. Just to enumerate a few, here they are: The motor car, the cinema, the radio, the aeroplane, the modern revolver, tommy gun, high explosives, deadly drugs, and a host of other scientific inventions which the criminals make use of in robbery and murder. Now all these highly useful inventions are of very great benefit to mankind which science has given to the world. But the criminal instinct which is inherent in man, picks out for his criminal activities those very scientific inventions.

You will naturally say, and rightly so, what remedy do you suggest to reduce all this crime in the world that exists today? Let the Christian Church throughout the universe reorganize its whole system of Christian teaching beginning in the home. Scrap all the modern methods and teach man this one great and abiding lesson that the great poet Robert Burns offered for a solution of all our troubles which he stated in his beautiful lines:

"Man's inhumanity to man
Makes countless thousands mourn."

The Church must accomplish this, otherwise its teaching of Jesus Christ's lesson are of no avail whatsoever!

Solemn Duty Is To Vote

Editor, Bulletin.—Have we any right to call Canada a democracy when 50 per cent or 60 per cent or 70 per cent of Canadians stay away from the polls on election day?

Here is a definition which sums up everything democracy means: "Democracy is a system of government, in which the vast majority of the people take a continuous and active interest in the affairs of government, and are able effectively to exercise their right through their elected representatives."

How continuous and how active is your interest in the affairs of government? What have you done about electing a representative in provincial or Dominion parliament? You have no right to call Canada a democracy unless you have done your share!

Have you ever criticized any act of any government? Have you ever blamed any political leader for any act? You have no right to do so, unless you voted at the previous election.

Do you realize that what has happened in a score of countries that thought they had a democracy, but in which the people were too lazy or too indifferent to vote? They live in chains today, everyone of them!

Do you realize that every enemy of democracy uses the privileges of democracy to the utmost to destroy democracy?

Do you women realize that it was the vote of the women of Italy, and their vote alone, that saved Italy from Communism in the recent election? The women of Italy turned out 95 per cent strong to vote in the first election in which they had that right!

Selfishness Human Failing

Editor, Bulletin.—When we hear a laboring man, or a leader of labor speak in harsh tones regarding the selfishness of capitalism, one wonders just what kind of a capitalist he is himself. Every one is a capitalist to a certain degree, just as one is also old, tall or short, fat or thin, a consumer, a trustee or steward.

In Australia some women regret that the shorter hours for men would be a blessing, as they have only added more problems to his hard working life, namely how to keep him satisfied on his day off work. He does not seem to have learned how to share his goods and fortune with one not so fortunate. Instead, he has increased the less fortunate one's burdens.

In Great Britain, it has been found the laboring man does not realize how he should share his goods and fortune with his wife. The laboring man, through his years of association with the splendid labor union of Great Britain, has not been given much leadership on how to be a good "little capitalist" in his home.

Smiles

"Life is nathin' but disappointment," groaned Brindlebrook. "Cheer up!" urged his friend. "Didn't you get ten pounds for puttin' your picture in the paper as bein' cured of all ills by Pinter's pills?"

"No, I did. An' relatives are asking me why I don't go to work now that I'm cured."

Jones appeared at work one morning with a big bruise on his nose. "It appeared there one day walkin' up the garden when he collided with the line post."

"Did you get a stamp?" "No," said Jones. "That's not the stamp, it's the 'post mark'!"

A cyclist was boasting about his abili as a rider. So strong was he he held forth that the landlord of the village inn challenged him. "Look here," he said, "I bet you can't ride up and down this street till the church clock strikes six."

"That was S.S." "Done!" he said, and started. "What time is it now?" "It's five," said the landlord. "Well, you've won, but you've lost."

"No," came the answer. "It never does."

World Policy In Palestine

The whole object of foreign policy is to defend the freedom, security and prosperity of the nation and, if possible, to keep it at peace.

We live in a world of sovereign states and the United Nations Charter modifies that sovereignty only for the weak. The Palestine case illustrates that for such the Security Council may assume the role of a world government.

Given agreement among its members, it may impose a solution, even by force of arms—but only on the weak.

Israel, a newborn state, is supporting this function of the Security Council, fighting British proposals for a four-week truce with a ban on further importation of arms and men and favoring the resolution of the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. which would proclaim unconditional ceasefire under penalty of sanctions.

According to Maj. Aubrey Eban, who spoke at Lake Success for Israel, "The Arabs (under the British resolution) are no longer called upon to adapt themselves to the will of the Security Council; the Security Council is called upon to adapt itself to the will of the Arabs."

The second part of that sentence is incorrect; the first is accurate. But if the Arabs can be compelled by sanctions or arms—to adapt themselves to the will of the Security Council, they are under penalty of sanctions.

Do you realize that what has happened in a score of countries that thought they had a democracy, but in which the people were too lazy or too indifferent to vote? They live in chains today, everyone of them!

Do you realize that every enemy of democracy uses the privileges of democracy to the utmost to destroy democracy?

Britain has perfected the world's first gas turbine for road vehicles. The prototype engine was shown for the first time at the Birmingham Motor Show, Birmingham. The small gas turbine ever made, it is a masterpiece of precision engineering. It is 7 inches in diameter, 5 feet long and weighs only 250 lbs. Its six blades are half an inch in size and its brake horsepower is 100—equivalent to a modern 35 to 40 h.p. engine. A remarkable feature of the engine is that although it "burns" kerosene, it will run on anything that burns with a continuous flame—gas, petrol, paraffin or even old candle ends.

in favor of the most cynical, aggressive and despotic of the great powers.

The Soviet government, which has banned Zionism since its rise, needs neither the Jews nor seek their suffrage on any question of foreign or domestic policy. But half the world's Jews are in the United States, with organized political power, exercising strong pressure on our policy. Yet, from the viewpoint of long-range American interest—regardless of the immediate effects of an conflict—we should bolster the sovereignty of the weak unless, or until, all nations agree to limited restrictions on sovereignty.

American policy is aimed at recreating a balance of world power as a basis of settlement with the Soviet Union. The only alternatives are capitulation to the Soviets in Europe and Asia, or war. There is, therefore, no acceptable alternative to the present policy, though it could be pursued more consistently and wisely.

Essential to it are warm and close relations with Britain, France and China. The Soviet objective is to wreck those relations, and they are being seriously undermined by the Soviet policy. To read some parts of my press you would think I were on the verge of war with Great Britain, China, with its fear of compulsion of the weak; and France with its great North African Arab population, also are perturbed.

Settlement By Force

It seems to me that we should refuse to accept the thesis that any settlement can be imposed by force on Jews or Arabs, bolster our faith that in a stalemate peace can be negotiated, and make it clear that our attitude will be determined by the behavior of each. Arab and Jewish armies should be requested to withdraw from positions they have taken outside the territories assigned to each. If Israel believes the United States and the Soviet Union are determined to defend the Jews by disrupting the western allies, they are playing with more than 400 million Jewish lives. For, in the long run, Arab sovereignty will be protected only by the west.

Ken Lawson Named President At Lodge's Annual Meeting

BLAIRMORE, June 9.—(CP)—Kenneth Lawson of Edmonton, yesterday was elected president of the Alberta Eks Association at the group's 21st annual meeting. He succeeds S. T. Vickerman of Calgary, named as the Association representative to the Eks Grand Lodge of Canada and Newfoundland.

Meetings of the association were closed but delegates said at its conclusion that a resolution condemning Communist activity in Canada was replaced with one reaffirming the principle of the order.

Another resolution proposing that 500 scholarship awards be made to one pupil in each Alberta school district was sent to the resolutions committee for further study. The resolution, presented by Calgary Lodge No. 4, was the first step in a proposed province-wide service project.

OTHER OFFICERS

Charles Brinton of Vegreville was elected first vice-president; Robert McKinley of Drumheller second vice-president; G. S. Wood of Calgary, secretary-treasurer; Clifford Conway of Lloydminster, chairman and Charles Richardson of Calgary, trustee, were included in other officers elected.

Next convention of the association will be held in Drumheller on a date yet to be announced. Earlier, George Smellie of Russell, Man., told the association it should be more selective in admitting candidates for membership. The grand exalted ruler told the 100 Eks attending the convention of the Alberta Eks Association that lodges have been "too eager" to enlist members. "They have not concentrated on selecting the type of member who was convinced of the principles of Eksdom and worked towards fulfilling them."

BRASS RAIL—BUT NOT A BAR

HOBOKEN, N.J., June 9.—(AP)—A brass rail doesn't make a bar, Steve Ross learned yesterday. And the lesson cost him $10.

A startled police sergeant watched the 23-year-old Ross amble into headquarters, plant his foot firmly on the brass rail and order a glass of wine.

The mistake resulted in his arrest on a charge of intoxication. Judge Charles Defazio decreed the $10 fine.

$6,500 Damage In Ranch Blaze

CALGARY, June 9.—(CP)—Fire yesterday destroyed a garage, truck and bunkhouse on the Half Diamond 1 Ranch 15 miles out of Calgary on the Springbank road. A bucket brigade of about 25 persons saved other buildings. Origin of the blaze, which caused about $6,500 damage, is not known.

was but $500. "This leads to the conclusion that we are taking in members by the front door and letting nearly as many out the back."

He urged the delegates to support proposals for an Eks magazine, saying it would be discussed before the grand lodge in Edmonton next month.

Missing Edmonton Lad Turns Up in Calgary

Gordon Mainwood, missing South Side youth, has been located in Calgary, according to RCMP officials today.

ARMY officials at Calgary stated Mainwood had passed his army medical and will be accepted for service.

The tall, red-headed youth, who had been missing from his home since June 1, was the object of a province-wide search.

Combined RCMP, city police, military and Boy Scouts searched for seven days in attempts to trace the boy.

Focus of the search moved to Calgary following a report from an Edmonton motorist that he had driving the youth to Blackfalds last Wednesday.

Mainwood was located by RCMP following a report from an army officer that the boy had been at tempting to enlist.

The 19-year-old youth's brother, Fred, is in Calgary today to contact the boy.

Bush Fire Still Raging Out of Control

TAXPAYER CAN'T HALT HOUSING

CALGARY, June 9.—(CP)—The appeal court yesterday quashed an appeal by A. W. Amies, a city taxpayer, who has tried to restrain the city from spending $210,000 on a federal housing project. Mr. Justice C. J. Ford earlier had upheld the city's right to use the money for the project.

Payments To Mail Carriers Extended

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—The Senate Tuesday night gave third reading to a bill extending for one year the supplementary payments to rural mail carriers. The bill already has passed the Commons and now awaits royal assent.

Only Rain Can Check Eastern Forest Fires

TORONTO, June 9.—(CP)—Rain still appeared the only force likely to check vast bushfires still raging today in northern and northwestern Ontario, in Manitoba and in northwestern Quebec.

Some rain early this week helped fire crews but little fell in northern Ontario where timberland tinder-dry from the late spring sun erupted May 25 into smoke and flame. A soaking downpour throughout the northland is overdue.

The Chapleau area fire, one of the twin giants loose in northern Ontario, yesterday raced for a time toward the village of Sault. But a change in the wind steered away the flames after they advanced to within 15 miles of the settlement on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Quebec's worst fires were in Bellemore township, 15 miles from Rouyn, and in a 75-square mile section embracing four townships roughly 60 miles south of Rouyn. The Bellemore blaze, covering five square miles, burned through timber and slash and through areas blackened by fires in the past.

Turk Govt. Collapses

ANKARA, June 9.—(AP)—The government of Premier Hassan Saka collapsed today under harsh fire from critics of its domestic economic policies.

Foreign policy played no part in the disputes which led up to the Saka cabinet's unexpected resignation early this morning. Turkey is receiving United States aid from the Truman doctrine, intended to protect Greece and Turkey from Communist pressure.

President Ismet Inonu accepted the cabinet resignation but immediately asked Saka to form a new government. Informed political sources said the new cabinet probably would have new ministers of economics, labor, commerce and perhaps of agriculture. Necmeddin Sadak is expected to continue as foreign minister.

Saka has been premier since last September, when the cabinet of Premier Recep Peker fell in a similar dispute. Saka had been foreign minister in the Peker cabinet and as such helped set up the arrangements for the $100,000,000 American aid program.

Airman Is Killed As Fighter Crashes

RIVERS, Man., June 9.—(CP)—One person was killed when a Royal Canadian Air Force fighter plane crashed five miles northwest of Beulah, Man., near here late yesterday. Air force officials did not reveal the crash until after officials had examined the remains of the single-engine Mustang plane.

Killed in the crash was Pte. L. Stanley N. Knight of Brandon. He is survived by his widow.

Civilian witnesses of the crash said the plane was flying at a high altitude when they heard a loud bang, followed by silence. Next they saw was the plane nosing to earth.

Air Force officials said Knight was flying a routine training flight from the Rivers Joint Air School at the time.

Condemned Man's Wife Dies Suddenly

WINNIPEG, June 9.—(CP)—Mrs. Clarence Richardson, 29, wife of the man convicted of murder June 2 by an assize jury and now awaiting execution, died suddenly Monday.

Dr. E. K. Vann, assistant provincial coroner, said Mrs. Richardson died while being taken to hospital. It is unlikely an inquest will be held.

Clarence Richardson, 33, was sentenced to hang Aug. 17 after conviction on a charge of murdering Mrs. Ann Varty, 28, last January.

Maher ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Editor

Remember the Kiwanis Show

Midweek medley, chums, and don't forget that Kiwanis benefit game at Renfrew Park next Tuesday night. After all every kid deserves a break. You can help the Kiwanians to provide same by putting out for a ducat . . . Like Vice Raschi, like Doug Darrah . . . The New York Kankee mound ace studies sociology at William and Mary in the off-season, wants to be a recreation director when he hangs up the spikes . . . Darrah, the slim Eak righthander who knocked off Puritans Joe Kanik by 2-1 in that stirring duel Saturday, and won another good one from Cubs last night, is attached to the Edmonton Recreation commission, being one of John Farina's playground supervisors . . . Too, Darrah, is a college man, attending Alberta 'U' when in session . . . Bill Gadaby, Neil Colville and the rest of the NHL rank and file contributed $150,000 to their rainy-day fund during the past season . . . Frankie Mathers, Ottawa Senators' defenceman, didn't cut much of a figure against our Flyers in the Allan Cup finals but he didn't let it interfere with his plans to get married . . . The personable rear-guard shortly will be hitched in Winnipeg after which he'll honeymoon it at Banff . . . There's some reason to believe that Mathers will play in Toronto next season, either with Leafs or Marlbors . . . Such a change of scenery would put the scotch on rumors reaching even this far west that the Winnipeg boy had agreed to stay in Ottawa for the next three years to play hockey and football, the Mathers "take" in this time to total $25,000 . . . Is there that much money?

A triple dead-head for third resulted at Suffolk Downs (it isn't far from Boston) the other afternoon. The horses were Spite Sue, Gay Date and Airy Acres.

They Want To Try Again

Despite the fact that attendance did not measure up for Wetsakwian Canadians' home games last puck season the citizens of Mayor Morley Mermer's town are reported as keen to give the juniors another whirl . . . We understand a committee of community minded sportsmen will handle the administration of the team and first off would like to get a tie-up with a professional organization . . . 'Jap' Williams, instead of Sam Timmins, represented Calgary Buffs, when Big Four heads got together at Red Deer Monday night.

This is Bill Maher's wedding day and the best wishes of a passel of hockey fans and other good folks will go out to the Flyer star and his bride of the next few hours, the popular Flora Reid . . . Maher's defection from the ranks leaves only Johnny Black, "Bing" Merluk and Doug Anderson, of the Flyers, in the eligible . . . Sign on a truck seen on city streets: "O'Sullivan Construction Co. Ltd., Lethbridge . . . This would belong to Frank O'Sullivan, angel (to the extent of $5,000, 'tis said) behind those Native Sons, western junior finalists . . . Third-sacker Roy Dean, regular at Renfrew in '36, is with his hometown North Battleford Beavers in the Saskatoon District Wheel . . .

The daily beat department: We think local tennis heads make a big mistake in not staging the junior tournaments simultaneously with the senior . . . For one thing it makes the kids feel they belong . . . An insufficient number of available courts is given as the reason for separating the tournaments.

Harvey M Well Bred

That Harvey M colt which has staked prairie turf critics by storm was foaled at the North Edmonton farm of H. R. Methers and is named for Harvey Methers . . . By Goldsmith-Authority, the latter from Martha Washington, one of the best brood mares in America, Harvey M was sold as a yearling to B.C. interests for $15,000 . . . You probably couldn't buy him right now under $10,000 . . . If Colin Kilburn of Wetsakwian Canadians and Frank Currie, Flyer coach, are found Wednesday afternoon with heads together could it mean anything else but one thing? . . . Precision Fastballers, Legionnaires Win Tilts

Legionnaires and Precision Machine whipped home in front at fastball in Kingsway Park Tuesday. Legionnaires climbed over their Legion brothers from Norwood 5-3 and Precision cuffed Moose 9-3. Al Young had to receive help from reliever Bill Wood before winning the first game while Bill Onischuck hurled the Precision effort. Bill Yurko, Norwood shortstop, did the damage for Precision, eluded the longest ball of the doubleheader when he connected for a home run to left in the second inning. Three runs in the first allowed Legionnaires to tie the game. Moose drew all being held to four hits throughout. A four run fourth

Dodger Rookie "Fireman" Curbs Uprising by Reds

NEW YORK, June 9.—Two big innings and a stalwart relief pitching job by Rookie Willard Ramsdell enabled Brooklyn Dodgers to continue their uphill climb in the National League as they shaded Cincinnati Reds 5-0 Tuesday. The Dodgers got all their runs in the first two innings, but the Reds came back with five runs in the third frame. Then Ramsdell took over, yielding only two singles the rest of the way. Four singles, a walk and a double off Ken Raffensberger accounted for the first four Brooklyn tallies and they added two more off Tom Hughes in the second on a walk and two more singles. Augie Galan's three-run homer was the big blow in Cincinnati's comeback. Young Vern Blockford pitched a four-hitter for Boston Braves, but he could have taken it a lot easier as his club piled up an 11-1 margin over Chicago Cubs. Phil Haul and Tommy Holmes collected three safeties apiece in the 11-hit barrage off four Chicago hurlers. Veteran Ted Wilks turned in another good relief performance as St. Louis Cardinals survived a bad start to edge Philadelphia Phillies 7-5.

LOOKING OVER his shoulder at the pitch, Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals cocks his right leg as he comes around—and bang.

Pre-Olympic Track Trials on June 19

Track and field returns to Clarke Stadium June 19 when the Polar Track and Field Club sponsor pre-Olympic trials. Gordon Higginson, director of the Polar Bars, is in charge of the proceedings. He will be remembered as coach of the Edmonton contingent entered in the Dominion meet here last July.

The June 19 showdown is to be the yardstick which will measure Alberta's representatives in the zone trials. The zone trials are slated for Winnipeg on June 24 and Vancouver on July 3.

Higginson is emphatic that only the best from the provincial runoff shall survive for a trip to the zonals. Among the hopefuls from his own organization are Pat Walker, Nick Lupaschuk, Doug Asbert, Doris Nufer, Ellen Nelson, Sylvia Calder, Mona Creighton and Pat Gunn.

Ron Hooper, a member of the police track team, will be a leading candidate for weight honors.

COUNTRY TALENT

No one on the local scene knows how much talent to expect from country points on June 19. Calgary has three prospects for the male events who may hear watching and De Winton will likely contribute George Sutherland, the Canadian decathlon champion.

The three Calgarians—Don Pettie, Ernie McCullough and Jim Lavery—are all likely to be contenders. McCullough is the fine quarter miler who has distinguished himself with the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. During the past semester he captained the Southern Indiana representatives in big college meets across the line.

Pettie, a sprinter, earned his letter with Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa. Lavery is still a year or so away from Olympic competition but the raw-boned Calgary end-end may come for 1952. He finished second to Darryl Rouleau (Mississauga, B.C.) in the Junior B aggregate at Clarke Stadium a year ago.

SENIOR MEN'S EVENTS

Senior men's events in the show include 100, 200, 400, 800, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 metre runs; the 110 and 400 metre hurdles; running broad jump, running high jump, and hop step and jump; weight events of javelin, discus, shot put and hammer throw; pole vault and 400 and 1,500 metre relays.

Events for senior ladies are 100 and 200 metre sprints, 80 metre hurdles, 400 metre relay, running broad jump, running high jump, javelin, discus and 8-b. shot put.

A complete line of events for junior women, Junior A men, and junior men will also be scheduled.

Taylor-Pearson Team Triumphs

MONTREAL, June 8.—(CP)—The Fort William Columbus Club Juniors of the Thunder Bay Hockey League have been taken under the wing of Montreal Canadiens, general manager Frank Selke announced Tuesday and the sponsorship will go right down through the juvenile midjet and bantam ranks.

Just back from a trip to the head of the lakes, Selke said all arrangements have been completed and beginning next season the club will be known as Columbus Canadiens.

The team will dress in the famous "bleu-blanc-rouge" of the Flying Frenchmen.

"We are happy over the arrangements," said Selke. "Although many of last season's best players have already been signed by other clubs we are looking to the future."

Stott to Defend Laurels; Kinloch Weighs Retirement

Harry Kinloch, who long ago was dubbed "the Flaxen Flash" by the late John Oliver, is not a likely starter when the city tennis championships get underway June 19. He indicated Tuesday that he had pretty well decided to give the tournament the go-by in favor of a seat on the sidelines.

If Kinloch, seven times city singles king, stays with his decision to bypass the 1948 net tests, it might mark the competitive end of a great career.

However while Kinloch debates what to do, others are already committed to a crack at the men's singles, blue ribbon event of the tournament. One of these is Johnny Stott, winner last year of the crown. He definitely will defend his laurels.

SEVEN COMPETITIONS

Glennora, Civil Service and Garneau courts will be utilized for play during the opening days of the tournament. Then, when the various events have been narrowed down, play will switch to Glennora exclusively. Total of seven competitions will be run off. These are men's and ladies' singles, men's doubles, ladies' doubles, mixed doubles, Bulletin cup and Mitchell trophy.

Defending champions, apart from Scott, include: Bessie McAvoy (ladies' singles), Dr. Hal Richard and Stott (men's doubles), Helen Wolfe and Sophie Mitchell (ladies' doubles), Stott and Bessie McAvoy (mixed).

Marge Forrester, winner of the Bulletin trophy last year, and Mitchell cup holder Dr. Richard will not be eligible to compete in these events.

Entries should be mailed to Cal Holmgren, tournament secretary, at 9738 106 street. The deadline is 7:30 p.m.

RCMP Recruiting Said Improving

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Justice Minister J. G. Diefenbaker said last night in the commons that the RCMP force is under strength but recruiting now is proving satisfactory.

Speaking during study of his estimates, Mr. Diefenbaker said it was difficult to obtain the right kind of recruits, but the situation is improving.

HIGH PRAIRIE, June 9.—The recent "Clean-Up Day" was a complete success and the Board of Trade and Citizens are justly proud of all the work accomplished. Work has started on a new office building and garage to replace that of the High Prairie School Division which was burned some months ago. Crews are clearing the debris and making a new entrance to the grounds facing east.

HOUSE TOLD:

Tomato Not Vegetable But Fruit

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—A tomato, says W. Chester S. McClure (IPC, Quebec), is a fruit, not a vegetable.

He maintained his stand on this point in Commons yesterday as members considered a bill of changes in the Excise Tax Act.

He asked Finance Minister Abbott whether he considered a tomato a fruit or a vegetable for the purposes of tax.

A Tory minister replied, "I do not know that I have any strong views on the matter. I am fond of them both. In any case, both fruits and vegetables are exempted from the eight-per-cent sales tax."

"Of course," said Mr. McClure, "a tomato is a fruit."

"No," chorused several members. "A tomato is not a fruit."

Sask. Forest Fire Said Arson Case

CHITEX LAKE, Sask. June 9.—(CP)—Lumbermen said yesterday they suspected that a forest fire raging near here for a week—had started deliberately to get around a provincial government order prohibiting the cutting of rough green pulp wood.

A fire pump changes green pulp to dried pulp, one lumberman said.

Chitex Lake is 90 miles northeast of Prince Albert. All available men have been called out to fight the fire, between here and Duck Lake. They have been fighting it with a water line, shovels and ploughs to keep it from spreading to heavy spruce timber on the west side of Chitex Lake.

Formerly considerable amounts of green pulp were shipped from this district and there was little dried pulp remaining.

Murphy Reports On City Hall

By Wm. "Spud" Murphy

It is a strange paradox that Edmonton's expanding economy and rapid physical growth should store up considerable monetary problems for the civic administration.

Even before Imperial Oil Co's discovery well in the Leduc-Calmair field spewed oil, to herald the greatest producing area on the North American continent, troubled economic weather was lying over the horizon for city commissioners and aldermen.

The discovery of oil upset the normal tempo of the city's development.

Population increases follow oil discoveries.

Towns grow to cities; cities double their populations within a decade.

Edmonton will be no exception to the rule. The city commissioners are planning to meet this growth.

The discovery of oil on the city's southern doorstep immediately increased Edmonton's population growth potential.

Instead of providing for a normal growth of 3,500 annually the commissioners are now planning to meet a yearly increase of 7,500.

It is estimated the population of Edmonton will pass the 200,000 mark within the next decade.

Many competent observers consider this estimate too low.

They place the population growth in the period at 250,000.

Extension of utilities to meet this population expansion calls for expenditures which will strain the city's financial resources to the limit.

The city's economic muscles, that had gained tone and toughness during the war years, have become flaccid and depleted.

Reserves accumulated during the buoyant economy of these years have been utilized to wipe out millions of the city's debt; to create substantial surpluses for utility extensions and general improvements.

Only $656,367 of the huge utility reserves remained at the end of April.

Approximately $2,500,000 remained in the general reserve account.

Millions have been spent on utility extensions, and, breathe it softly, some money has been spent on paving, chiefly in connection with the transit system's conversion to trolley bus operation.

To meet further utility extensions the city must enter the borrowing market.

This year it is proposed to capitalize $1,850,000 of utility improvements.

Sewer and water service development plans call for expenditures of $4,100,000 in the next few years.

Transit system conversion plans for 1949 and 1950 will total close to $2,000,000 and it is expected that expenditures for the telephone and electric light departments will amount to little short of that estimated for the transit system.

Then there is street paving. The public will not be satisfied with a moderate program.

They will demand a speed up, and any expenditures above the $300,000 expected annually from the sale of tax-foreclosed land will have to be capitalized.

On its present assessment the city can sustain a debt-service ratio of 250,000. This gives the commissioners a $10,000,000 margin to work upon.

Time alone will tell how far the civic administration will go on utility extensions, paving, graveling, curbing and other civic improvements.

Incidentally a $40,000 addition is contemplated for the north end telephone exchange next year.

Trolley buses will be speeding up 100 street and along 15th avenue by mid-August, if present plans of the transit system meet no unexpected hazards. The 15th avenue conversion to trolley bus operation is expected to reach completion at the end of that month.

A six-minute basic service will be maintained on this route.

Construction of the overhead wiring on Whyte avenue, from 104 street to 100 street and north to the high level bridge, will be undertaken this year. Also it is anticipated that this section of the transit system will be paved early in 1949.

Action is imminent on a long-delayed civic improvement.

Tenders have been called for the construction of honest-toned, comfortable stations in our major parks.

Wonder what has happened to Al Fred Mitchell's suggestion of an off-street parking area at the foot of McDougall hill and installation of an elevator to transport patrons to north side street level?

Life Begins Again For Plucky Child

TORONTO, June 8.—(CP)—The day before her recent 14th birthday, Ruth McKee underwent a successful operation for a heart ailment she had had since birth.

It ended, doctors hope, her old semi-bedridden life of terrors and worries against exertion.

Ruth was a plucky child before her school days and lasted only six months in kindergarten before being sent home to a life of enforced quiet. Teachers gave her lessons at home during the intervening years.

Doctors attributed the trouble to stoppage of one of the heart valves. After the operation she was told to "take things easy" for a year—then there is no limit to what she can do.

Conceding with her hospital discharge was the arrival of a letter from an English woman thanking her for a foot parcel. Ruth had given her teacher a basket of goodies when Toronto children contributed to a wedding gift for Princess Elizabeth.

Mrs. Eadie Describes Annual VON Meet

VON Progressing Rapidly in Canada; Recently Celebrated 50th Anniversary

Annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada was worthwhile and stimulating reported Mrs. W. W. Eadie, Edmonton delegate who attended the Ottawa meeting in April.

Mrs. Eadie, in speaking recently to an Edmonton Board meeting at the Masonic Temple, said that Mrs. D. B. Sinclair, OBE, executive assistant to the Deputy Minister of Welfare, gave an outline of the history of the VON.

Miss Sinclair stated that the VON had progressed in an enlightened way, changing its services and changing its name, and that the value of the VON could not be overestimated.

Strength and efficiency of the VON is to be measured by the character of the women who perform the nursing service in the opinion of D. C. Coleman, CMG, LL.D., honorary counsel of the Order who spoke to the meeting.

Hon. Norman Patterson, president of VON for Canada, mentioned the low standard of living for some people and said that the VON was one organization that helps the less fortunate.

Mrs. H. Curial, nurse-in-charge of the Edmonton branch, reported 234 visits in May by the three nurses. Four prenatal classes were held with attendance of 138. Four students from Royal Alexandra hospital observed VON work for one day.

Mrs. J. L. Cleary announced captains for Community Chest financial campaign as follows: Mrs. G. E. Kitchen, Mrs. H. H. Chis-

11,900 Take Out Citizen Certificate

OTTAWA, June 8.—(CP)—Statistical Commission reported the Commons Tuesday 11,902 native Canadians had taken out citizenship certificates in the 1947-48 fiscal year under the government's new citizenship program.

At the same time, 2,182 certificates had been issued to previously naturalized Canadians.

The hats are romantic, after a fashion, and have a look of the elegant nighties about them. Small, prim, firmly placed on the head, softened by veiling and decorated with feathers, they have a feminine manner.

There are no sneakers among the hats shown by members of the Millinery Designers' League which seemed to turn out 80 per cent of the hats sold throughout America. Without exception they are conservative and head-fitting the kind of a hat that usually pleases a housewife.

The drama in the perennial hat show will come a little later when the big-name designers show their collections. The great majority of women, who can't afford to pay $50 a year for hats, will be guided by a spokesman for the group.

"A woman will be able to wear these hats on the back of her head no matter how hard she tries. They're made to be worn straight—they're on the level."

Women Discuss Home Problems

By KAY REX

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Immigration, public health, juvenile delinquency, trades and professions for women filled occupied attention of the National Council of Women as delegates continued a series of conferences on problems affecting Canadian life.

Need of supervised nursery schools was stressed by those attending the meeting on health and welfare.

Mrs. Verna Walker, of Moose Jaw, Sask., remarked that in some of the provinces there weren't even kindergartens.

Mrs. Jean Saunders of Ottawa noted a tendency among uneducated children toward dishonesty. She asked what could be done about it.

"It gets right back to the home training," said Dr. Phyllis Bradshaw of Windsor.

"No child steals if it is well adjusted at home," remarked Dr. Milton Sherman of Victoria.

BRIDGE

Killing Re-Entries

Is Good Defence

By William E. McKenney

The most exclusive of all bridge tournaments is the masters individual world championship.

To qualify as a participant, a player must be a Life Master, of which there are less than 125, or must be the holder of a national championship in a country other than the U.S. Participation is by invitation only and is limited to 36 players.

Philip Strider, of Cincinnati, O. gave me today's hand at the recent Midwest tournament in Cincinnati, and it brings out a fine point in defence. Phil loves to bid slams, but he thinks that the most difficult hand to defend are part score contracts.

West held the opening lead with the diamond king and then shifted to the six of hearts. Declarer played low from dummy and East won the king. East returned the ten of clubs and declarer's queen went to West's ace.

West led the jack of clubs, South won with the king, cashed the ace and king of spades and led a small spade, throwing East in the lead. East then cashed his fifth club.

At this point it did not look as if any harm would be done by leading back either the fourth club or the jack of diamonds. But there is a theory followed by good card players, which is kill re-entries.

If East leads either the fourth club or the jack of diamonds, declarer will trump it, and after leading another trump, will end up with a trump and the jack and seven of hearts in his own hand. In dummy he will have the ace and nine of hearts and queen of diamonds.

West will be down to the ace of diamonds and queen of hearts, and he will have to make a discard on the last trump trick. If he discards the ace of diamonds, declarer will throw dummy's nine of hearts on the last trump trick with the queen of diamonds and ace of hearts, declarer will discard the king of hearts from dummy and with the last two heart tricks.

Now for the big art event of 1943.

No Claim Staking Following Reports Of Uranium Find

REGINA, June 8.—(CP)—Reliable reports that uranium ore had been discovered in the Lac la Ronge area of northern Saskatchewan yesterday followed an announcement by Resources Minister J. L. Phillips that an area of 25 square miles had been withdrawn from claim staking.

Staking was banned in the area, at the Junction of Montreal river and Lac la Ronge. Mr. Phillips would not say if this action was a result of uranium discovery, but some time ago he indicated that a search had been made in the area.

Vancouver Couple Arrested For Theft

CALGARY, June 9.—(CP)—A Vancouver couple were taken into a box at Moose, B.C., shortly after noon yesterday and arrested by RCMP in connection with a housebreaking at the home of Janet Humberg here Monday night. Police said most of the $711 worth of loot taken from the house was reported found in their possession. Arrested were Kenneth and Patricia Munson of Vancouver.

Income Tax Law To Be Simplified

Widespread Changes in Act Are Planned in New Bill

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—A major move toward simplification of Canada's income tax law was made yesterday in Commons.

Members gave second reading—approval in principle—to a 131-clause bill making widespread changes to the Income Tax Act. The bill, similar to one introduced but not dealt with at the last session, now goes to the banking and commerce committee for detailed study.

U.S. Clamps Silence On Russian Trade

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—United States policy on trade with Russia settled into a "keep-em-guessing" phase today under strange circumstances.

To the secrecy over what goods the Soviet Union will be licensed to buy in the United States was added another puzzle: what she actually has been allowed to get since the United States clamped down on export licenses March 1.

Plans for Commerce Secretary Sawyer to tell what American goods Russia has been getting recently, as a rough guide to what she can have in the future, were cancelled abruptly yesterday.

No reason was given for the cancellation, but it was learned authoritatively that State Secretary Marshall made a personal call on Sawyer shortly before the plans were changed.

At a press conference a little later, microphones which had been set up to record for radio use an expected statement by Sawyer, were requested removed because "no statement will be read."

Speculation over why the state department might object to disclosure of buying authorizations already given Russian centre on possible fear of its effect on the current battle in Congress over funds to aid western Europe.

Psychiatrists Called "Pestilential" By MP

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) asked in the Commons Tuesday that the Veterans Affairs Department rid itself of the "pestilential psychiatrists."

Making an appeal on behalf of two war veterans with grievances, he advised the department to "clear out these people (psychiatrists) as you would clear vermin out of a house."

Annual Meeting of 'The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 7, 1948

BOSTON, Mass., June 9.—Declaring that democratic government is the instrument of the devil, an irreligious, spiritual force is being channelled into the affairs of men. The Christian Science Movement of Directors today urged Christian Scientists, in annual meeting, here, to work strenuously for the defense of free government throughout the world.

Highly conceived, the Directors told the Annual Meeting that the spiritual integrity of the Christian Science Movement, the world-wide Christian Science movement affirmed. As such, the Christian Science Movement is something more than a aggregation of legislative acts and legalized rules of conduct.

"It is the orderly unfolding of the moral character and spiritual integrity of the Christian Science Movement, the world-wide Christian Science movement affirmed. As such, the Christian Science Movement is something more than a aggregation of legislative acts and legalized rules of conduct."

"Thousands of Christian Scientists from many parts of the world heard the Directors issue a distinct challenge to the proud, boastful 'Goliaths of today, as they go to and fro in the earth, denying God, they are denying their own life, for God is the life of man,' they said."

"In free governments, now seriously endangered by the modern Goliaths, the Directors declared, there is a force that gathers its strength from 'the same eternal truth given by Christ Jesus in his peerless Sermon on the Mount. Ultimately it shall be seen, they said, that no individual or nation on earth can withstand the power and presence of God and His Christ."

Defence of the democratic form of government, the Directors reasoned, requires a practical, preparedness, one inspired by prayer and guided by divine wisdom. And they added that a union of nations, to endure, must have a spiritual foundation.

"Nations must possess kindred qualities of thought, culture and purpose. These, when based on spiritual elements which survive the destructive effects of friction, serve as the only lasting bond and impregnable bulwark of men and nations."

To the standard bearers of Christian Science gathered in The Mother Church, the Directors gave this admonition: "The celestial light given in the Sermon on the Mount fills the world with a freestanding power and presence. No godless boasting, no ideology, no atomic force, no iron curtain can stay its power."

The incoming President, Harry

HARRY C. BROWNE, incoming President of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

C. Browne, whose only official duty is to preside at the Annual Meeting, declared that the success of any organization, institution or government depends upon the spiritual efficacy of the governing or controlling instrument.

"With the problem of world peace confronting us," he said, "these same divine qualities applied in individual thought and action will be found as powerful as Jesus' time."

King Pledges Flood Help

OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced last night a joint arrangement between the Dominion and British Columbia government to finance the relief and rehabilitation of the flood-ridden coastal province.

Outcome of conferences here this week between Premier Johnson of B.C. and federal cabinet ministers, the arrangement follows:

1. The two governments will divide the costs of temporary emergency relief equally.

2. The federal government will bear 75 per cent and the provincial government 25 per cent of the costs of emergency measures already taken or being taken for strengthening dikes and their eventual reconstruction, and for the restoration of their protected lands by the pumping out of flood waters.

3. Cost of eventual rehabilitation of the affected area will be settled by later agreement between the two governments on the basis of a report from the Fraser valley relief and rehabilitation commission.

One new provision added in his May 18 budget speech that the government plans to bring the new act into operation back to 1, 1949. It contains all the tax changes announced in the budget.

Finance Minister Abbott said that the government plans to bring the new act into operation back to 1, 1949. It contains all the tax changes announced in the budget.

Optical Report Justified—Hsley
OTTAWA, June 9.—(CP)—Justice Minister Hsley Tuesday in the Commons defended the propriety of publishing last week's report along with a combine in the optical goods trade before the launching of prosecutions.

Publication of the report of Commissions of the report of Commissions Commissioner F. A. McGreggor was criticized by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Country).

Mr. Diefenbaker questioned that there was justification for "trying individuals before the bar of public opinion by the publication of reports indicating guilt when a subsequent prosecution may take place."

Other remarks said, "constitutes democracy in action." More than 6,000,000 people listen to the weekly Monday broadcast of "The Christian Science Monitor Views the News."

Circulation of all Christian Science periodicals was reported to be continuing to set new high records.

Other widespread activities of The Mother Church were reported by the Clerk, such as the supply of food, literature, books, and clothing to Germany, and the setting up of a network of joint welfare committees through which supplies can be channelled to displaced persons and isolated students.

"It is quite evident," the Clerk reported, "that this far-flung activity of aid, gift, and contribution made through The Mother Church has reached to all parts of the earth."

More Credit Buying Now Than in 1947

BANFF, Alta., June 9.—(CP)—Customers are buying more goods on credit today than they did a year ago, it was revealed at a forum held by the department store and wearing apparel group conference of the National Retail Credit Association.

The forum followed addresses before more than 1,000 International Credit Conference delegates yesterday by W. H. Baldwin of New York, vice-president of General Motors Acceptance Corporation, and Capt. A. A. Nicholson of New York, assistant to the vice-president of the Texas company.

General conference sessions are continuing today with Premier Ernest Manning of Alberta scheduled as guest speaker.

Delegates said collection percentage of outstanding accounts has shown a tendency to decline in recent months. They also said credit customers now constitute about 50 per cent of the patronage of larger establishments in Canada and the United States.

An impromptu poll of delegates showed that charge accounts collected on the day they fall due now average 95 and 96 per cent.

Delegates said this is indicative of a healthy return to more normal levels.

CSU Sailors Said Beaten

TORONTO, June 9.—(CP)—J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, president of the Canadian Sailors' Union, said today at Montreal that he was sending 200 men into Cornwall, Ont., "to stop privateering" by his "ships" after an outbreak of violence last night at Cardinal, Ont.

Sullivan said in a prepared statement that several CSU members were "beaten up aboard ship" and forcibly taken off the SS Hastings.

He added that the decision of his union's executive was taken after a statement by an official of the rival Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) that the CSU were "beating up" their forces for a showdown with law officers, if necessary.

The CSU strike against five Great Lakes shipping companies entered its fifth day amid a welter of accusations and counter-accusations.

The TLC-affiliated union called the strike to try to force the lines into signing a contract with the CSU. The union said it had set up picket lines in Great Lakes ports.
